ICYMI: Donalds Joins Greg Kelly Reports

WASHINGTON – Last night, Congressman Byron Donalds (R-FL) joined Greg Kelly Reports on Newsmax to discuss yesterday's White House meeting between President Trump, Volodymyr Zelenskyy, and European leaders, and media outrage over the Trump-Putin summit in Alaska.

Watch the full interview here or below:

"This is what happens when you have real leadership in the White House... Donald Trump has delivered":

"It's a very good sign and, let's be clear, there's still a ways to go, but this is a very good sign. This is what happens when you have real leadership in the White House. You'd never would've gotten a deal like this or even gotten to this point with Joe Biden. We already know there's no way Kamala Harris would've got to this point. This is what the American people voted for last November. Somebody to come in and lead, to actually execute and get the job done, and you went through it in your monologue. You name the issue, Donald Trump has delivered. Promises made, promises kept, and even when you talk about D.C., this is something he talked about in the campaign trail last year. I was with him, I watched him talk about it several times - he's delivering on that as well. A funny thing happens when you just have common sense leadership. The country is alive again and we're getting things done, the way they needed to be done. Joe Biden, Hillary Clinton, Barack Obama, Kamala Harris, I don't really care what Democrat you name. None of them will be able to accomplish this because they simply don't know what they're doing."

"We actually have the possibility of a seventh peace deal in eight months... It's happening under common sense, strong leadership from Donald Trump":

"I mean this is what I'm talking about. The Democrats don't have any solutions. They had a number of years to try and bring this conflict to a close. They couldn't do that, they didn't even know how to start. All they knew how to do was go to Congress, keep asking for billions and billions of dollars to continue, continue a war effort which was going nowhere. What Donald Trump's entire mission has been this whole time is getting, having peace, stopping the killing. That's been his focus and so he's on his way to getting that done. And the Democrats can't even congratulate Donald Trump for even making the attempt to have peace. They can't even do that. They are so sycophantic. They just want Donald Trump to fail for the sake of failure, because they think they can do a better job. But we've seen Democrat policy in action, it fails every single time. They have failed America every single time. They have failed other world leaders every single time and we actually have the possibility of a seventh peace deal in eight months. Like that's never happened before, but it's happening under common sense, strong leadership from Donald Trump."
