ICYMI: Donalds Joins Fox & Friends Sunday

WASHINGTON – Congressman Byron Donalds (R-FL) joined Fox & Friends Sunday on Fox News Channel to discuss the imminent second House vote to impeach DHS Secretary Alejandro Mayorkas and the impending debate over government funding.

Watch the full interview here.

I'm fully confident we are going to pass it this week:

"Well, I'm fully confident we are going to pass it this week, mostly because Leader Scalise will be back with us this week. He has been battling cancer and all the reports on his health are good, so he is going to be returning to Capitol Hill. We're going to put that on the floor. It's going to pass and look, the Senate is going to have to take this up and they're going to have to deal with it. They just can't ignore it. They're going to have to decide one way or the other, should Alejandro Mayorkas actually keep his job, and the reason is clear why he should lose it: (1.) He's lied to the American people, (2.) Our Southern border is not secure, (3.) There's already been one million encounters on the Southern border this fiscal year, and we're only halfway through the year. It's only going to get worse for our country. He deserves to lose his job simply because he has not followed the law, he has not faithfully executed the law, and he has perjured himself by lying to members of Congress."

If Joe Biden wants to fund the government, simply secure the border:

"The next major hurdle in front of us is going to be government funding: What are we going to do around that and are we going to allow this government to be funded if the border remains unsecured? Because the primary job of the United States government is to secure this nation. And if it is failing at that, the way Joe Biden is failing at that, does it deserve to get funding across the board? Many members of Congress don't agree. I don't agree with that. If Joe Biden wants to fund the government, simply secure the border, and then we can be done."
