ICYMI: Donalds Joins Hannity

WASHINGTON – Congressman Byron Donalds (R-FL) joined Hannity on Fox News Channel to discuss the current state of the Democratic Party, and the Republican Party's common sense revolution that stands for the bright future and freedom of all Americans.

Watch the full interview here or below:

Radical left ideology in the Democratic Party:

"This is what's happening with the Democratic Party overall. They continue to embrace the radicalism, even though the country has soundly rejected that radicalism. But look, if the Democrats choose to do that, that's their business. We [Republicans] are going to be focused on common sense economic policies that make America strong, make America healthy, and put working families, all through our country, putting them first - that's what we're gonna be focused on. They can hang out with Mamdani and the other limousine Liberals who have terrible policies that do not work on behalf of the American people."

Radical Democrats are not what is best for this country:

"Time and time again, they tell you exactly what they think. And what they think is not in the best interest of the United States. You cannot trust these people with majorities, you cannot trust them with the policy making branches of our government. We [Republicans] have to continue to, frankly, lead and tell the American people the truth - that the Democrats are not with you. It is the Republican Party, it is the Conservative movement that stands for the bright future and freedom of all Americans."
