ICYMI: Donalds Joins Stacy On The Right

WASHINGTON – Last night, Congressman Byron Donalds (R-FL) joined Stacy On The Right on SiriusXM Satellite Radio to discuss government appropriations, the Biden administration's supplemental funding requests, border security, and anti-Semitism on college campuses.

Watch the full interview here.

There is no more money here in the House, unless our border is secured:

"House Republicans, we have to hold the line, and we have to be serious about it. My rhetoric, my messaging on this is going to be consistent. There is no more money here in the House, unless our border is secured. That's it. That's it. And I think that in this town, you have to be willing to just say, 'No.' And only when you say no does this town start moving, because at the end of the day, what Washington really wants to do is spend the people's money. That's what they want to do. They're addicted to it. They don't know how to stop it. They want to do that, so you have to have the strength to tell them 'No, if you're going to spend the people's money, you have to do it this way.'"

Institutions of higher learning cannot continue to be hotbeds for a mindset that undermines America:

"I find the other thing that's really, that's terrible, and I know on Capitol Hill, we're already starting to investigate this is: How much money is coming in from overseas that has been moving our universities more and more to the left. That has to be fully investigated because our institutions of higher learning cannot continue to be hotbeds for a mindset that undermines America. Again, what are we paying for? That just makes no sense and we have to stop doing this to ourselves."
